The icon may display in a different area of the patient screen if certain system/computer settings are activated.

Copy Data

A new feature called Copy Data has been added to Maintenance.exe to allow users to copy codes from one medsys to another. Please contact the Genius Solutions Support Department for more information on using this feature.

UB04 Paper Claims

Additional fields have been added to the UB04 header to allow for different spacing of items in box 80 of the UB04 paper claim. In some instances, offices may be required to populate only a specific line in box 80. To accomplish this, three additional fields have been added; one for each line. If populated, the larger, original box will continue to populate in box 80. The additional boxes will populate only when the original box is empty.
